One generation from now most people in the U.S. will have spent more time in the virtual world than in nature.

“PLAY AGAIN”

(80 min, Tonje Hessen Schei, 2010)

New media technologies have improved our lives in countless ways. Information now appears with a click. Overseas friends are part of our daily lives. And even grandma loves the Wii.

But what are we missing when we are behind screens? And how will this impact our children, our society, and eventually, our planet?

At a time when children play more behind screens than outside, PLAY AGAIN explores the changing balance between the virtual and natural worlds. Is our connection to nature disappearing down the digital rabbit hole?

FRIDAY DECEMBER 9, 2011, 6:30-9:30 PM (NOTE EARLY START TIME)

TRANSITION FRIDAY! ...An evening focused on positive solutions at a local level!

FILM: A Selection of film excerpts on “DIRECT DEMOCRACY” With a focus on Occupy Seattle. ...How Do We Link The Occupy Movement to the Neighborhoods?

The state of the economy, the enormous disparity in wealth and opportunity we experience in this country and rest of the world, and the lack of a government truly responsive to the majority of its citizens are of devastating impact to us individually and as a nation. The Occupy Movement seeks a major transformation to a participatory democracy in the economy as well as in the government that will serve us all. Tremendously important information is being discussed and developed and needs to be shared. But the opportunities to participate in and support this movement are limited to the time and energy individuals struggle to make available.

This evening, we'll hear about the Occupy Seattle Movement directly from participants, discuss why it's important to all of us, and explore effective ways we can empower our communities in becoming part of this movement.

Facilitated discussion follows with participants from Occupy Seattle, Sustainable Wallingford and Transition Seattle.

(Event is FREE and open to the public! ...but Donations are kindly accepted).

FRIDAY DECEMBER 16, 2011, 7:00-9:30 PM

FILM: “IF A TREE FALLS – THE STORY OF THE EARTH LIBERATION FRONT”

In December 2005, Daniel McGowan was arrested by Federal agents in a nationwide sweep of radical environmentalists involved with the Earth Liberation Front-- a group the FBI has called America's "number one domestic terrorism threat."

For years, the ELF—operating in separate anonymous cells without any central leadership—had launched spectacular arsons against dozens of businesses they accused of destroying the environment: timber companies, SUV dealerships, wild horse slaughterhouses, and a $12 million ski lodge at Vail, Colorado. With the arrest of Daniel and thirteen others, the government had cracked what was probably the largest ELF cell in America and brought down the group responsible for the very first ELF arsons in this country.

IF A TREE FALLS: A STORY OF THE EARTH LIBERATION FRONT tells the remarkable story of the rise and fall of this ELF cell, by focusing on the transformation and radicalization of one of its members.
